

September 17th 2016

Most of the morning was spent on weeding wild-oats and photographing wildflowers (including a new one for the photographic record – the Jug Orchid. Regina was sick and couldn't be there. In attendance were: Barbara, Ed, Elizabeth, Frank, Kade, Karen, Robyn, Ronnie, Subas, Sue, and Trevor.

Glimpses of the Day!

It's been a while since this pit got this much water!
(It was pretty close in 2009)

Grevillea is falling 😊

An elegantly aging Donkey Orchid!

Majestic Spider Orchids were everywhere!
